

Joseph Horowitz (JPDS-NC Class of 2005) debuted in his first opera in December 2010. He played the character "Joe" in Puccini's La fanciulla del West. Joseph is a scholarship student with The American Center for Puccini Studies, an opera company that introduces neglected Puccini pieces to the music loving public, and he is applying to several universities where he'll be auditioning as a prospective vocal performance major.